Collect for Today

Faithful God,
 You never forsake those who make their boast
 In the cross of Christ:
 Grant us the grace not to rely on our own strength
 But to trust in you with all our hearts;
 Through Jesus Christ our Lord,
 Who is alive and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit,
 One God in glory everlasting.
 Amen

Beautiful saints planted by God in this place, grace and peace.

What a difficult week we have experienced as a country! Judging from the conversations I am part of it is so easy to become despondent, discouraged, and angry. So, it is good that we have this opportunity to come together in worship so as to be renewed in love, joy and peace.

I would like to offer that our biblical principles on stewardship are perhaps one way to shift both the current conversation and show us a way forward as believers. As we embrace more deeply the insight that God owns everything, and loves everyone, this starting point compels us to be in a new relationship to those around us. We are bound together in a common destiny and common humanity. In this we are each given the responsibility to live in loving and right relationship with one another and creation. This moral imperative if implemented would change our social and political relationships radically. It would lead us to a new life style marked by accountability to the common good. Shifting us away from all those things that break down the common life. The great reward we would reap for the next generation should we find ways to live this out in our ordinary and everyday lives.

So as we go into a new week, inspired by the Spirit and renewed in our mind I pray each of you may be a beacon of hope for this vision held by God and revealed in Jesus Christ.

With love and blessings always
Revd. Anastasia
